A QUESTION ASKED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

Will you be kind enough to allow me a few lines' space in your valuable paper, as I want to ask in behalf of a few citizens and myself, how and for what purpose James Kaubane, an ex-police officer, was re-appointed, considering for what purpose he was discharged; but more particularly his open offense against the Government in July last? If I am not mistaken he was charged with treason at the Station House. Is it possible for anyone coming along, criminal or otherwise, to drop in for a Government billet, especially for a peace officer? If so, why not lighten the public expense by turning loose those that are serving out far less offenses, and discharging the officers and keepers of Oahu Prison? I am not a professional kicker, but I am rather bound to think somebody or something is wrong in the Police Department, as, for instance, when the officers were being paid off on Saturday, the last day of the month as is customary, suddenly and before nearly all of them were paid, the clerk "shut up shop," said he had no more money, and went off to the baseball grounds, leaving the unpaid officers in disgust. Vote in Favor of Free

Sugar.

Hawaiian Treaty Denounced in Congress.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20th.
 The first blow has been struck at the sugar interests of the Hawaiian Islands by the Republican House of Representatives, which, in Committee of the Whole, rejected the following amendment to the sugar schedule of the Tariff Bill, moved by Congressman McKenna, of California:

All sugars not above No. 13, Dutch standard in color, syrups or cane or beet juice, melada, concentrated molasses, testing by polariscope not above 75 degrees, shall pay a duty of 94-100 of a cent per pound, and for every additional degree, or fraction of a degree 3-100 of a cent per pound additional.

All sugar above No. 13 and not above No. 16, Dutch standard, 1-79-100 cents per pound.

All sugar above No. 16 and not above No. 20, Dutch standard, 99-100 cents per pound.

All sugars above No. 20, Dutch standard, 2-19-100 cents per pound. Molasses testing not above 56 degrees by polariscope, 2 cents a gallon.

Molasses testing above 56 degrees, 4 cents a gallon.

This amendment, which would have reduced the duty about 33 per cent, was lost by a vote of 134 to 115, a majority of nineteen thus affirming the principle of free sugar, or rather that sugar should not be protected like other industries. The California delegation voted for the amendment.

Undoubtedly the feeling in favor of free sugar has been greatly strengthened throughout the country for two reasons—first, because of the rascally and iniquitous methods of the Sugar Trust; secondly, because it had been demonstrated that the Hawaiian Islands planters, who enjoyed special treaty advantages, had joined the Sugar Trust which had been formed to plunder and harass the American people. If it had not been for the latter reason it is hardly probable that the majority of the present Congress would have done anything to disturb the Treaty, but it is contended that by joining the Sugar Trust the islands planters placed themselves outside the plane of moral consideration, and that when they themselves destroyed the sentiment upon which the Treaty rested they have no cause to grumble at the natural result of their own selfishly deliberate act. For this reason especially the majority in the House voted for free sugar, preferring to pay a bounty to American sugar to continuing special tariff advantages to the Hawaiian branch of the Sugar Trust. Congressman Cannon of Illinois made this very clear in his reply to McKenna, when he said: "Because I am a Republican I am in favor of removing the revenue leech from the protective system and placing sugar on the free list." He then denounced the reciprocity treaty with the Hawaiian Islands and declared that a few men in California control the production of sugar in that country. "Put sugar on the free list," he said, "and good-by to five million dollars to four men of California who own sugar plantations on the Hawaiian Islands."

If you can explain this declaration in any other way than as a direct attack upon the Treaty, for the reason already stated, you will please trot out your reason. To people who have followed the course of events closely there is but one explanation possible, and it is the deliberate alliance of Hawaiian planters with that huge swindling combination known as the American Sugar Trust. If the evil could be confined to the principals in this affair it might be viewed with some degree of equanimity, but the innocent suffer with the guilty. There is just one hope, namely, that a consideration of the appropriations may compel Congress to retain at least seventy-five per cent of the sugar duty for revenue purposes. If not, a heavy deficit will be created, inasmuch as the Service Pension Bill calls for an annual expenditure of $50,000,000, which draft upon the Treasury had not been confirmed by legislative action when the Ways and Means Committee reported the Tariff Bill. On the other hand, the House is not in a considering mood, and it will take very strong arguments to convince it of its error in this matter.
